After thinking and looking at other apps (namely Facebook and Twitter), I've come up with the following design. I named the functionality Talk, because in my vision it also enables users to communicate, but resource sharing is its main purpose.

Besides creating a mockup for Shared resources functionality (which I named simply “Talk”), I’ve also redesigned Relation Details page. Now it’s prettier and fun to look at (or at least I hope so).

I liked this task, so decided to improve Tasks section as well. I wasn't thinking about how anything might be implemented, I simply let my imagination run wild for a moment :)

I googled designing software and after some research, decided to use Adobe XD because it seemed to be simple to pick up, yet powerful. It lived up to my expectations :)
